Stop The Press

An Australian First- Jim Barry Assyrtiko

Peter Barry had a moment, you know those moments when you remember everything. The date, the weather, what you ate, even maybe where you sat in a restaurant abroad. He had tried his first glass of Assyrtiko on a warm Monday in 2006 in Santorini. That's when the idea was floated..Fast forward 10 years and he can proudly announce the release of Australia's first Assyrtiko. Fresh, crisp flavors develop in this white wine with a sense of the Mediterranean, apple and pear on the palate, not unlike a dry Riesling but more texture and with more minerality. Great with oysters or seafood or to just enjoy by itself! OPA

Cullen Legacy Series

*Vanya Cullen, is well-known as a leading advocate of biodynamics, but she has gone a step further than anyone else in producing a series of four chardonnays which were harvested and/or put into barrels on certain auspicious lunar dates.
The grapes were harvested either on fruit days or flower days, and the wines were also filled into barrels on either a fruit or a flower day.*

Seppeltsfield

Seppeltsfield's history is punctuated with many moments of visionary foresight. Seppeltsfield's founder, Joseph Seppelt and his eldest son, Benno, were particularly renowned for their longer term vision for the estate, closely following custodianship principles to ensure a legacy was passed on to future generations.

This is no more evident than Benno Seppelt's inception of the Centennial Cellar - a truly unique and unparalleled system of maturing single barrels of vintage Tawny for 100 years before release. The first vintage, 1878, was released a century later in 1978 and every year since, a 100 year old Tawny has been released from the cellars of Seppeltsfield.
