Australian Selection

Here at Fraser's, we're always looking to find the best produce of Australia, and of course we're always looking to stock our bar with the best booze this great country has to offer. Our land has an abundance of unique flavours, fruits, herbs and spices... so naturally many of these ingredients found their way into local liquor! Instead of opting for "the usual", opt for something on offer from our own Aussie distillers.

Adelaide Hills Distillery

Adelaide Hills, South Australia

Founded by a winemaker-turned-distiller, AHD is a reputable producer of small-batch spirits and liqueurs. Most famously, the company has collaborated with Something Wild Beverages to bring us the vibrant 'Green Ant' gin, which literally contains ants (edible, of course), which are hand-harvested under special permit, by the Larrakia people, on their native land.

Four Pillars Yarra Valley, Victoria

Four Pillars was started with a clear purpose in mind. They wanted to elevate the craft of distilling in Australia. Their drive to create Four Pillars can be summed up as follows: "We just love great drinks, we love cocktails, and we love craft."

| Rare Dry | 12 |
| Bloody Shiraz | 14 |

Giniversity

Margaret River, Western Australia

Essentially the craft gin masterminds of Limeburners, the Giniversity brand has definite pedigree behind the operation, and is a serious, award-winning contender to Australian gin. Perhaps it is a bold statement to be made, the fact that they live in The West Winds' territory?

Lark Distillery

Hobart, Tasmania

Lark is one of Australia's leading distillers of whisky, taking advantage of the island's prime whisky-making territory, 150 years after the last Tassie distillery had closed its doors. Local barley, peat, and the perfect climate all play an invaluable part in their products.

Limeburners

Albany, Western Australia

Limeburners paved the way for many 'craft' distilleries popping up in WA. Beginning in 2003 with humble starts, this distillery has shown the world that whisk[e]ly doesn't have to come from Scotland or America; whisky can come from Albany! Now a mainstay in many venues, Limeburners is in our opinion an iconic WA brand.

Maidenii

Yarra Valley, Victoria

Maidenii started as a collaboration between bartender Shaun Byrne and French winemaker Gilles Lapalus, with a passion to bring premium quality Australian vermouth to Australian bars (and possibly the world). Infusing wormwood with native plants and herbs, such as strawberry gum, wattle seed, quandong, ribberries, and black truffle (!), and quality viognier, syrah and cabernet, their range can be enjoyed on their own or in a martini.

The West Winds

Margaret River, Western Australia

Gin is having the greatest impression on the Australian landscape. As being somewhat a neutral spirit, it needs a great amount of botanicals to give it a sense of place. West Winds hit the market in 2011 with ‘The Sabre’, a classic London Dry gin, with toasted wattle seed; ‘The Cutlass’, a stronger, more savoury style, with kutjera (native bush tomato); and ‘The Broadside’, the navy strength heavy hitter, with – get this – filtered seawater! All have been recipients of prestigious Australian and world spirits awards, and will forever line our shelf.

Whipper Snapper Distillery

East Perth, Western Australia

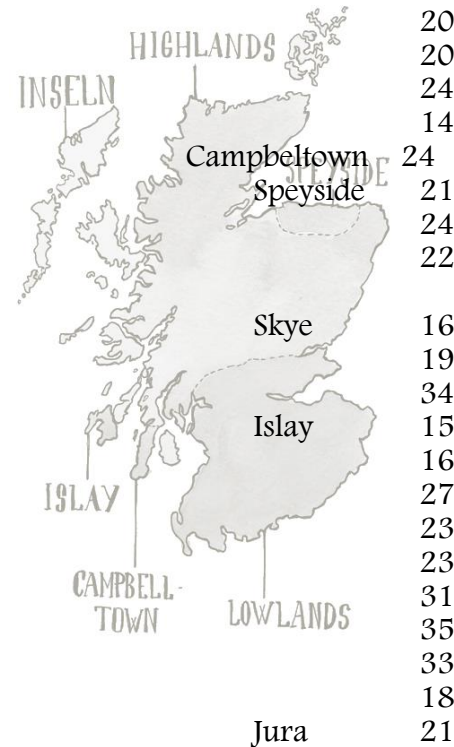

Moonshine, true to the name. This recipe has been passed through generations of backyard distillers under lock and key. After making grain and corn whiskey for over 50 years in a garage, Whipper Snapper was born and are producing unique clear and barrel aged whiskeys. Leaning to the American style with the expertise of an Irish whiskey distiller, the first prototype of an ‘Australian salute to Bourbon’ was released. You may also find their Upshot bourbon-style whiskey to be quite enticing!
